

SHORT LINE ROADS TO GET HEARINGS BEFORE RAILROAD WAGE BOARD

Indication Given That This Will be Board's Decision

By Associated Press Leased Wire
New York, April 27.—For the first time since the railroad strike began the Erie railroad today announced that its passenger service was 100 per cent normal. Freight movements also were reported improved, with through freight 60 per cent normal.

Other railroads terminating on the New Jersey shore of the Hudson also issued optimistic reports. Many strikers had returned to Jersey yards, officials said.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Washington, April 27.—Short line railroads may be given a hearing on the wage demands of railroad workers before the railroad labor board finally adjusts the pay controversy.

Chairman Barton announced today that the board had this matter under advisement. E. T. Whittier, chairman of the railway executives' committee told the board that his committee represented 115 of the some 400 roads of the country and that these 115 had between eighty and 90 per cent of the total mileage.

Refused Strikers Hearing.

The board today refused hearings on the wage demands of striking Chicago Express and Freight Handlers' Union.

Timothy Shea, vice president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen, told the board employees' wage demands would be presented to the short lines by tomorrow. This was necessary he said in order to comply with provisions of the transportation act which require conferences between employer and employee before a case can be brought before the labor board.

Shea continued today the representation of the firemen's demands. He asked the board to grant relief to the men on duty on larger engines either by requiring the installation of automatic firing machines or placing an additional fireman on duty. Firemen at present, he said, are compelled to perform labor much greater than the capacity of an ordinary man.

U. S. C. of C. Would Not Grant Bonuses

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Atlantic City, N. J., April 27.—The United States chamber of commerce would go on record as opposed to the granting of a bonus to soldiers who served in the world war by adoption of a resolution submitted for action by the resolutions committee at the initial session of its annual convention today.

The resolution declared that "not only half a million negroes in the south, who probably would receive $500 or $600 each, would immediately quit work until the money was spent," but predicted there would be generally "an orgy of spending" that labor would be disorganized and production decreased.

The chamber also received a report of its national committee on European finance which said while American bankers and business men are friendly toward aiding in the rehabilitation of Europe by private investment, no such action can be looked for until peace has been formally concluded.

Revision of the excess profits and income taxes is urged in the report. Discussing the need for a fixed governmental policy of sanction and co-operation the report was there was no thought of suggesting that the government alter its policy of not increasing the $10,000,000,000 it already has advanced to European countries.

50,000 REBELS

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Commanders of the central zone, Gulf coast and southern zone have not been named, it was said, nor the boundaries definitely fixed.

Sims' Charges Are Called "Monstrous"

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Washington, April 27.—Characterizing as "monstrous" Rear Admiral Sims' charges that delays by the navy department prolonged the war four months and cost 500,000 lives, Rear Admiral J. S. McKean told the senate investigating committee today that "had it been made by any foreign official, allied or enemy, it would have aroused the indignation of the whole American people."

"Had it been invited by the inflamed, exaggerated, diseased ego of a patient in St. Elizabeth's, the government hospital for the insane, no one would have been surprised," the admiral said. "That it was made under oath by a rear admiral of the navy on the active list, president of the naval war college, in a hearing before a committee of the United States senate, is, in my opinion, an insult to every officer and man now in the navy, or who served in the navy during the world war."

"I do not believe that any one, short of the good God himself, has sufficient knowledge of the various elements and factors entering into the war and the causes of its conclusion to justify him for one moment in charging that the navy or any of its officers were responsible for the loss of any part of the 2,500,000 tons of allied shipping claimed to have been unnecessarily lost, nor least of all do I believe that there is any human being with sufficient information and sufficient knowledge to justify him in charging the loss of the life of one of the 500,000 allied soldiers to have been due to the errors of the navy. This monstrous charge has been or will be disproved in every item."

He declared the importance of the action of the senate "could not be over stated" and that it applied the "principle of freedom to Ireland."

RETIRING Y. M. C. A. MAN WILL STAY IN DIXON

DerKinderen to Take Interest With E. B. Raymond

Secretary J. DerKinderen, who has resigned his position as secretary of the local Y. M. C. A. will remain in Dixon, making his home here. His many friends will be pleased to learn that shortly after May 1, he will become associated in business with E. B. Raymond, taking an interest in the business of abstracts of title, loans, real estate and insurance.

This business was established many years ago by Ira W. Lewis and Albert Johnson, who were pioneers in the abstract business of Lee county. Mr. Raymond succeeded Mr. Johnson in 1894 and has since had entire charge of the abstract work of this firm, conducted under the name of Lewis & Raymond.

In 1891, they purchased the insurance business of James P. Sanford which department has developed largely since that time. Since the death of Mr. Lewis in 1915, Mr. Raymond has operated alone.

Mr. DerKinderen prior to his entrance into the Y. M. C. A. work, had experience in Chicago and in the northwest in the real estate business so that he comes into the new firm with knowledge of the work he is undertaking.

The firm will be known as Raymond & DerKinderen, the former for the present having charge of the abstract and loan department while Mr. DerKinderen will assume charge of the real estate and insurance work. Both men are well known, having a wide circle of acquaintances, and the business should enjoy a rapid and prosperous growth under their management.

Rockford Team to Play Opening Game With Browns Sunday

One of the fastest semi-pro baseball teams in northern Illinois has been secured by Manager Hal Drake of the Browns to open the season here next Sunday. The Rockford Maroons, a team that has attracted attention for several seasons will come to Dixon Sunday and participate in the baseball booster day. The Browns have been handicapped with bad weather in not being able to get out on the field for practice work. The Maroons have a strong lineup with practically all of the same players who appeared with them last year and a good game is assured the local fans on the opening day.

The Browns were very successful in the baseball bazaar last week and expect to present a much stronger lineup than last season. Several new players were given trial Sunday and have been handpicked for regular positions on the team. An effort is being made to have the new bleachers completely in right field for the accommodation of the crowd on the opening day and all that is now required is good weather.

Portions of the walk will be closed while the platforms are swung underneath the bridge preliminary to the replacing of steel girders and other necessary repairs, which will start at a nearly date. With the arrival of proper weather conditions, the work of repairing the structure should be completely under way in a very few days.

Will Not Shut Off Sterling Gas Supply

A conference between officers of the I. N. U. and the Sterling city auxiliary held in that city last evening resulted in rescinding of the order issued by the I. N. U. earlier in the day for shutting off the gas service in that city. Yesterday the last of the gas-producing coal on hand in Sterling was used and it was announced by the company that gas would be turned off during the evening, but as a result of the conference held last evening the company officials have determined to continue the plant as best they can on Illinois coal, which is almost valueless for gas producing purposes.

INSULATION ON TELERAPH WIRE NOT NECESSARY

U. S. A. Signal Corps Proved it During World War

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Washington, April 27.—Telephone, telegraph and cable communication may be revolutionized as a result of experiments conducted by the Army Signal Corps and described today before the national academy of scientists by Major General George A. Squier, chief of the corps.

Explaining how the army had obtained well nigh perfect results both in telegraphing and telephoning over bare wires laid in the water and on and under the ground, General Squier predicted that the expensive heavy insulated land and submarine cables now in use would be replaced by single wires over which a number of telephone and telegraph messages would be sent at the same time. While the germ of the present idea was noted by General Squier in 1910, it was not until the United States entered the war that the necessity for rapid development came. He told the scientist that the need of eliminating insulation arose when the United States was called on to supply the allies as well as itself. Machinery for insulating wire in use in this country had a capacity of only 8000 miles a month, whereas 40,000 miles of wire monthly was required by the American army alone.

HARDING-WOOD FIGHT IN OHIO PRIMARY TODAY

Contests in All But 22 Districts in Buck- eye State

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Columbus, O., April 27.—Chief interest in today's presidential primary election in Ohio centered in the fight on the Republican ticket between United States Senator Warren G. Harding of Ohio and Major General Leonard Wood.

Governor James M. Cox was unopposed on the Democratic ticket, and all candidates for district delegates to the Democratic National convention were pledged to support Cox.

Fights between Harding and Wood supporters for the district delegates, however, were being waged in all but three of the 22 districts of the state. Wood candidates did not enter the three districts.

Of the six candidates for delegates-at-large to the Republican National convention, four are Harding men and two are pledged to Wood. Four are to be elected.

Harding campaign managers claim that Harding would carry the state by a substantial vote and that all of the Harding delegates would be successful. Wood managers contended that their candidates would carry the state in the preference vote, but did not claim that all their candidates for delegates would be successful. Wood leaders said they confidently expected that more than half of the 48 delegates to be selected would be pledged to their candidate.

Because there was no contest on the Democratic ticket, today's vote was expected to be unusually light. Considerable interest was being manifested in the Republican vote in the cities, but there was little apparent interest in the rural communities.

The Harding candidates for delegates-at-large are former Governors Frank B. Willis and Myron T. Herrick, Mayor John Galvin of Cincinnati and Attorney Harry M. Daugherty of Columbus. The two Wood candidates are former Attorney General Edward C. Turner of Columbus and Attorney William H. Boyd, of Cleveland. The three districts where Wood candidates are not entered are the first and second (Cincinnati) and the 21st (Cleveland).

Because of the referendum called recently upon the Reynolds bill, which would have permitted women to vote for president in Ohio, women will be denied the privilege of voting at today's presidential preference primary. The referendum on the Reynolds bill will be voted upon at the November election.

McLaughlin Named Head Dem. Committee

The inclemency of the weather was doubtless responsible for the limited attendance at the Lee county democratic county committee meeting held in the city hall yesterday afternoon with about a dozen committeemen present. Delegates to the state convention to be held in Springfield were named as follows: John P. Devine, Thomas J. Lyons, C. C. Faber, Bert Woods and A. H. Hanneken. No alternates were named.

ILLEGAL RAISE OF TAXI RATES CHARGE OF CITY

Owners Must Explain to City Council This Evening

Owners of taxi cab lines in the city, who on Saturday announced a 100 per cent increase in the charges for carrying passengers, have been summoned to appear before the city council at its regular weekly session this evening to explain why such action has been taken in strict violation of the ordinance regulating charges. Mayor Mark D. Smith yesterday afternoon notified the owners of the lines that the increased charge of from 25 to 50 cents would not be tolerated, and ordered the owners of the lines to be present at the council meeting this evening.

Mayor Smith said this morning that the ordinance allows a 35-cent fare but that the owners of the lines had paid no attention to this and advanced their charges 100 per cent. In this connection he cited section 9 of the taxi cab ordinance which read as follows:

"It shall be unlawful for any such person, firm or corporation either as principal, agent or employee to charge or demand a greater fare for each passenger than 35 cents between 6 o'clock a. m. and 10 o'clock p. m. and not over 50 cents for each passenger at other times, and no compensation shall be charged or collected for the transportation of hand luggage of passengers unless same is of such size as to occupy space which otherwise might be occupied by a passenger or would inconvenience other passengers using said motor vehicle, or which would tend to make the operation thereof unsafe. Such license shall be kept on file with the city clerk, a copy of the schedule of prices under which such vehicles are operating."

Corn Market Shows Further Increase

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Chicago, April 27.—Fresh advances in the corn market today resulted from continued rainy weather and from indications that Europe was still after wheat and rye. Both France and Great Britain were said to be out of the market, but other transatlantic countries appeared to remain anxious bidders. On the returns in the corn market, however, profit taking on the part of holders was much more in evidence than was the case yesterday. Opening quotations which ranged from unchanged figures to 1 1/4 higher with May at 1.74 @1.74 1/4 and July from 1.66 to 1.67 were followed by a moderate action and then by new rallies.

Oats climbed to new high record prices but then sagged as a result of sales to realize profits. After opening 1/2c off to 3/4c higher, including July at 99 1/2c to 99c, the market eased back.

Provisions were decidedly unsettled. Lard declined sharply after a steady opening. Weakness of sterling exchange and of the New York stock market had a bearish effect later. The close was nervous at 1 1/2c net decline to 1 1/4c advance, with May 1.74 to 1.74 1/4 and July 1.64 1/2 to 1.65.

Alto Township Buys Truck for Road Work

Charles Plein, County solicitor for the Service Truck company and sales agent for companies supplying standard makes of road building machinery, has received through the Mosher brothers agency, one of the late model Service trucks. The truck has been purchased by Alto township and is to be put into use at once in rebuilding roads. This progressive township through its supervisor, Andrew Nicholson, Road Commissioner Martin Hall and County Superintendent of Highways, L. B. Neighbour, after careful investigation, selected the Service truck.

Supervisor Nicholson and Commissioner Hall spent the past winter in California and during their stay had the opportunity of viewing all makes of trucks and road building machinery operate under all sorts of conditions. They were particularly impressed that the three and one-half ton Service truck, equipped with hydraulic lift and dump body would best meet their transportation requirements for hauling rock, gravel and heavy road building machinery. The truck will be demonstrated at the annual meeting of road commissioners and town clerks of the county, in Dixon Thursday and will be delivered to Alto township next week.

Dollar Wise Folks use the Budget Plan

—in getting their New Edison. They recognize it as good business.

You'll find that the Budget Plan is good business for you. Touches your pocketbook lightly.

Better investigate. Just step in, and we'll explain how it can be applied in your case.

The NEW EDISON

"The Phonograph with a Soul"

The things you buy fall into 3 classes.

First, are your necessities of everyday—food, clothes, shelter. Pay as you go, is the best rule with necessities.

Second, are the luxuries of prosperous days. They should come out of your surplus. So, pay as you buy, is again the best rule here.

Third, are necessities that stay with you over a lifetime. Music—your New Edison—belongs in this class. Why should one month pay for the enjoyment of all the months? Let all the months pay.

Such, in brief, is the principle of the Budget Plan. It shows you how to arrange your regular expenditures so that you can get your New Edison right away, and yet make all the months pay.

Come in and let us explain.

THE GREATEST BARGAIN.

In a time when prices are soaring out of reach, it is fitting, nay, even a pleasure, to call attention to the fact that April 30 marks the 117th anniversary of the day the United States bought a vast empire from France for only $15,000,000. This comprises what is now the states of Louisiana, Missouri, Arkansas, Iowa, Minnesota, North and South Dakota, Nebraska, Oklahoma and the largest parts of Kansas, Colorado, Wyoming and Montana.

The greatest bargain in history was called the Louisiana Purchase and was negotiated in the administration of President Jefferson and in the reign of the first Napoleon.

The purchase more than doubled the area of the United States, but, nevertheless, there were a considerable number of Americans who suspected Napoleon of profiteering and denounced Jefferson as an easy mark. In fact, there was instituted among the New England states a definite movement of secession in protest against the purchase.

Jefferson himself was not without misgivings, for $15,000,000 was a large amount of money in those days and the territory included in the purchase was then a vast wilderness with a population of but 40,000. The land had been ceded by Spain to Napoleon who planned to erect a great colonial empire, but he found himself obliged to sell out when pressed for ready money to carry on his wars against England and her allies.

Some historians say that, besides the Revolution and the Civil War, the Louisiana Purchase is the greatest fact in American history. But there can be no doubt that it is the most profitable investment ever made by any nation, for the taxable wealth of the territory included in the purchase now is about 600 times the $15,000,000 the United States
paid for the land.

DECLUBBING THE P. O.

When a newspaper prints anything the postmaster general doesn't like he may (and has) termed it seditious utterance and excluded the newspaper or magazine from the mails. When a periodical is denied the mailing privilege it is killed. The postoffice always has this club in hand. Often it has used it wrongly, too.

That is why, in the opinion of William Marion Reedy, St. Louis author, "there should be a grand popular rally to the support of House bill 13,056, introduced by Representative Igoe of Missouri."

The Igoe bill, Reedy insists, "is what the people long have mourned, because they got it not."

Now they have a chance to get it. All required is sufficient pressure upon a slow and halting Congress.

The Igoe bill, among other provisions, provides (Section 4) that the person affected by an exclusion-from-the-mails order may go to a federal judge and have his cause heard.
The judge may affirm or reverse the exclusion action. Such judge shall have the power during the pendency of the proceedings to suspend the exclusion order. This permits publication of the periodical. It ends the arbitrary rule of the Post-office Department. If the publisher is guilty of violating a federal law he may be punished. But he must be proven guilty. It will not be sufficient that a postmaster general, or a postoffice inspector, believes him guilty.

If the Igoe bill becomes law the publisher may be punished for violating a law, but he cannot be punished because somebody thinks he is going to violate some law. That is why the Igoe bill merits the hearty support of every American who subscribes to the doctrine that a free press goes hand-in-hand with free

BRINGING
FATHER

by George
McManus

speech, and that both are foundation stones
of a free democracy.

The Igoe bill would take the club out of the postmaster general's hand.

A GRAIN MARKETING PROGRAM

Grain Marketing, the second big department of the Illinois Agricultural association is established. A definite program of action is worked out, and an expert Director employed. William G. Eckhardt, for eight years Farm Advisor of DeKalb county, will direct the grain marketing work. This action was taken at the Executive Committee meeting at Springfield. Because there will be more money to use than the original budget of $333,000 the appropriation for this committee has been extended from $15,000 to $65-000. This department is now on the same basis with the Livestock Marketing Department, directed by Prof. H. W. Mumford.

The problems of grain marketing all center around the large fluctuations of prices, and the long trail from the farm to the consumer.
The committee has met several times with the officers of the Illinois Farmers' Grain Dealers' Association, with the result a recommendation was made that the I. A. A. employ five to ten men to help establish co-operative grain elevators, and to assist established farmers' elevators. At the present time there are about six hundred farmers' elevators which handle a large share of the business of the state.

In helping to establish these elevators the following recommendations were made: Elevators should be financed strongly enough to handle the business of that community.
They should be in a position to carry its proportion of grain from the period of marketing to the period of consumption, doing away with speculative capital. Shipments should be made by the shortest and cheapest route from the point of production to the point of consumption, excluding all unnecessary handling. Installation of drying plants for grain to save great waste by spoiling in shipment and the hauling of water is planned.

To promote a steadier market, these elevators should be large enough to carry the crop of a good year of excess production, over to a shortage year. It is the plan to have each elevator owned co-operatively by the farmers in the vicinity and to also have them joined together so that they can take the necessary steps in marketing after the grain leaves the elevator.

The committee recommended that a clearing house be established to begin operations as soon as enough established farmers' elevators warrant its success. This clearing house shall function as a brokerage, connecting the farmer and the consumer by the lines of least resistance. It means that Illinois farmers, through their business organization, will attempt to market their own product direct to the big manufacturing plants in place of letting it go through the hands of several other persons.

This farmers' program which comes after much study by the experts, means as much to consumers as to producers. When the plan is carried out in the corn belt states, farmers will not be forced to sell in the hands of speculative capital, which, when it gets in possession of the bulk of the crop, advances prices beyond all reason. It will mean a steadier price and less hazard and chance on the part of the farmer. Farmers represent one-third of the consumers. When a reasonable price, consistent with the cost of production and frequency of turn over is reached, it is an injustice to farm consumers, as well as city folks, when the price goes higher. Mr. Eckhardt will take up the work of directing this department the first of May.

JUST JOKING
REAL ALTITUDE

A returned warrior was relating his experience to a number of old friends in the village inn. After exhausting his supply of tales, he was asked:

"Did they use any high explosives over there?"
"Well, I ain't sure about that. But when our battalion was up the line once, a shell struck our dugout, lifting everything into the air, and when the sandbags came down they were all covered with snow."—Trit Bits (London).

OF THE TWINS
by Olive Roberts Barton

BILL BLACKBIRD GETS IMPATIENT
None of the birds or flowers or animals are allowed to leave Scrub-Up Land until they are as clean and bright as new pins.

That is why things appear one at a time in the Land-Where-Springs-Is-Coming for Rubadub, the fairyman in charge, makes each one wait his turn to be scrubbed and painted before leaving.

Nick and Nancy were busy these days painting up the birds, but for all they worked and worked and made their fingers and brushes fly as fast as they could, Bill Blackbird was getting impatient—and jealous.

He was furious about Robin Redbreast getting out first, and nearly died of envy when Belinda Bluebird got her blouse waist dipped in orange dye, and

He was furious about Robin Redbreast getting out first.

a brand new blue jacket to go over it. Not that he cared about looks—not he —but he wanted to get out to get some bugs, and he couldn't go until he was finished.

When Mr. Crow got away—that was the limit! Bill could endure it no longer. So he decided to think up a plan that would hurry things up a bit.
At last he hit on an idea that tickled him almost to death. "Chik! Chik! Chik!"
he chattered excitedly in his rusty-wooden wheel voice. "I'll fool them all yet.
Just one peep at the Bird Book and I'll know exactly what to do."

Now Bill was smart, but he had a poor memory, and when a person intends to deceive people, he must be sure that his memory is in good working order. Of course he might have fooled Nick and Nancy, but the Magical Mushroom was a wise old fairy and you had to get up pretty early in the morning if you wanted to fool him.

SUCH IS LIFE

Every man thinks he knows for whom he is working.

For the boss, of course.

The person who comes and looks over your shoulder to see if your job is being properly performed.

For the fellow who provides the pay envelope at the end of the week.

In another sense a man also understands for whom he is working.

For the wife and kiddies at home.

Or perhaps for his mother or even merely for himself.

But is there no one else for whom you are working?

Some of us seem to be laboring rather hard for Mr. Swift and Mr. Armour and the rest of the "big five."

We are also working for the Sugar Trust and the Shoe Trust and the Wool Trust and the landlord.

They keep us working pretty hard,
too, for no matter how much money we earn, it seems to be just enough to satisfy their demands.

Just enough and no more.

How far back along the lanes of life is your memory capable of traveling?

If you remember things which happened when you were only two years of age, your case is unusual.

The average person has few, if any, recollections of childhood earlier than his fourth or fifth year.

The lessons of life, which have permanent value, usually do not begin to impress themselves on the child until a still later period—the ages of six to seven, experts say.

Individual circumstances, of course,
largely determine childhood memories.

Some persons have experiences early in life which fix themselves indelibly in the storehouse of recollection.

The early careers of others are placid.

Intelligence of the individual is another governing factor.

Health of the nerve tissues is another.

Pleasant experiences more often are remembered than unpleasant ones.

The habit of the average memory of rejoicing unpleasant impressions is referred to by mind students as the working of "libido."

Memories of childhood are of more enduring quality than those of mature years.

This is due to the greater plasticity of youthful nerve cells through which memories are retained.

WUXTRY! HOLY LAND GOES WET

American brewers are invading the Holy Land, declared Mrs. Alice V.
Mordill, temperance worker, at a meeting here.

Uncle Sam<sup>Mo</sup>

"UNCLE SAM, M. D., will answer questions of general interest relating to hygiene, sanitation, and the prevention of disease. Address:
INFORMATION EDITOR, U. S.
Public Health Service, WASHING-TON, D. C.

Eczema

Q. I have been troubled with eczema for several years. Will you please tell me how to treat this disease?

A. It is not possible to tell you merely in this column what you should do for eczema. The treatment will depend on the nature of the trouble, on the underlying cause, on the stage of the disease, on the location of the trouble and many other factors. Successful treatment requires attention to all these factors, and should, therefore, be entrusted only to a qualified physician. Often a remedy of benefit in one form of eczema will be injurious in another form; moreover, even treatment with the proper medicines may be entirely without benefit, unless an underlying cause is removed.

Sour Taste

Q. I wake up every morning with a mouthful of very sour-tasting saliva, and am also troubled with a bad breath. I clean my teeth every day. Could you tell me what the trouble is?

A. It is quite impossible merely from your description to determine the nature of your trouble. A bad breath may be the result of bad teeth or of some form of nasal catarrh, or it may be due to some digestive disturbance. A physician could tell

Care For Soldiers

Q. Please tell me what to do with my son. While serving in the army he had the flu and since then has had trouble with his head. He is in need of help. Is he entitled to free treatment?

A. The United States Public Health Service is providing hospital and sanatorium care and treatment for all discharged soldiers, sailors marines, or army or navy nurses, beneficiaries of the War Risk Insurance Bureau, who are suffering from sickness or disability, the result of disease or injury contracted in line of duty in the service.

All claimants entitled to hospital care may apply for relief at any station of the Public Health Service and if application blanks are not available, they may apply by mail to the nearest relief station or to the Bureau of War Risk Insurance. When such claimants have been instructed to report for examination their travel expense to and from the place of examination will be paid by the War
Risk Insurance Bureau, together with the wages lost while the examination is being made.

If a claimant is unable to travel arrangements may be made for treatment in a local hospital, or at his home if there is no hospital located at his place of residence.

Full information will be furnished upon application to the United States Public Health Service, Marine Hospital Division, Eighth and E. Streets, N. W., Washington, D. C., or to the War Risk Insurance Bureau, Washington, D. C.

Confessions of a Bride
(Copyright 1920, by The Newspaper Enterprise Association)

"What was that?" Bob exclaimed, stopping at the top of the tower stairs.

"Somebody's S. O. S."

We Find Gene Archer and Gorden Spence Bound and Gagged.

"Wait! what if it were some one of our own party?"

"Run! Save yourself, dearest. This building may be shaken to dust at any moment. Get onto the ground. I'll see who is in there."

If the earthquake was going to swallow up Bob, I was going to take me at the same time, I decided. I followed my husband into the little room.

In one corner was the limp body of Gene Archer. He was bound and gagged. He was asleep or dead. In another corner was Jordan Spence, bound and gagged, but with shining eyes which brightened as he saw us.

Off came the gags, Bob attending to Archer, and I to Jordan Spence.

"Where is Chrys?" I asked at the same moment. Each answered the other with a slow shake of the head. Then we gave our attention to Archer. I forgot about the menace of the earthquake for the men seemed almost dead.

As usual in an emergency, I did the impulsive and the reckless thing. In the secret chamber which Bob and I had just left was water. I rushed down the stairway and through the open panel. I passed close to the body of Hamilton Certeis but I dared not look at the man.

He had loved me a long time. He had loved me without reward. I couldn't hate him as I ought to do. But I couldn't help him for that would amount to treachery to others who also loved me.

I found a bowl and filled it from the fountain. As I turned to leave that strange room I heard Certeis call to me.

"Jeanne! Jeanne! Are you a dream?"

"No! No!" I stammered and then I gathered up my courage and walked toward him. It was impossible to desert a living creature who needed my help. If Bob didn't understand, he would have to misunderstand.

But Hamilton Certeis had risen and was supporting himself by the side of the divan, while he waved a warning gesture toward the door.

"You are not a vision! It's really you! Go! My darling! Run! An earthquake is coming. I have had a premonition. I always know. Yes, it is true.
Some persons have the sense of it—they feel it beforehand. I tell you, I always know. Save yourself, I beg of you!"

"I will stay and help you. I am strong. Lean on me," I said and I went up to him.

At the touch of my hand, he placed his fingers softly on mine.

"It would take too long. I move slowly," he said. "Send me help—if you choose—but go, I beg of you." Then he kissed my hand, dropped back on the divan and fainted for the second time.

I stumbled up the stairway and across the roof and staggered into the tower room with part of the water left in the bowl. Spence and Archer drank and were revived, but Archer was too weak to stand. At sight of me, Bob remembered the danger from which we had been fleeing.

"The earthquake!" he shouted. "Spence, take care of my wife! I'll carry Archer!"

This store will immediately become the real economy center of his community. Selling Dry Goods, Ready-for-Service Clothing and Shoes for every member of the family AT ONE PRICE TO ALL—AND THAT PRICE THE LOWEST

Who We Are

It is quite natural to inquire about any newcomer in your midst. So we answer the question in advance.

J. C. Penney Company, owning and operating 297 stores, is the outgrowth of a small store started in Kemmerer, Wyoming, in 1902. Ever since that first store was opened the principle that has guided this present day nation-wide institution has been the Golden Rule. With fullest consideration for everyone, serving all alike, our reward has been ever increasing friendships that enable us to constantly enlarge our field of service and consequently benefit a greater number as we go forward.

J. C. Penney Company was a pioneer in giving to the men who came into the organization an opportunity to become partners in various stores. We know that when you know us you will have implicit confidence in our intention and determination to render to you a service worth while whenever you require Dry Goods or Wearing Apparel and Shoes for Men, Women and Children.

Our Buying Power

In 1919 we sold, for cash, about thirty millions of dollars worth of merchandise. We know it needs very little explanation to convince people that such a purchasing power is sure to entitle us to lowest cost price. In addition to quantity purchases we do, by our centralized buying organization, almost entirely eliminate the middlemen's profits that generally constitute part of the cost in the usual one-store-only buying.

What we save buying is passed along to our customers. That in itself is a very good reason why we constantly sell at such low prices.

We Never Have "Sales"

With a J. C. Penney Company store near you—there is no need nor wisdom in waiting for "special sales" to buy at lower prices.

We never hold "ses" or "cut price events." "Sales" are either a disposal of undesirable merchandise or else the prices have been marked too high at first so as to stand a "mark down" at the end of the season. Think it over! Who pays the big profits when "sales" methods are used?

You can buy from us at the beginning of the season, when the goods are new, at prices generally as low as the so-called "after-season-clearance-sales."

Surely then you will welcome this store where you can buy what you want—when you want it—at a price you are very willing to pay.

Our Buying Organization

To make certain that we are constantly able to supply you with the newest and best that the nation's markets produce, we maintain all-year-round buying organizations in our own offices at New York City, St. Louis and St. Paul.

Daily contact with the markets is a big advantage in buying. We have that advantage. Experience has demonstrated that in no other manner of buying can we be sure of serving you as you should be served.

In each of our buying centers we have an adequate staff of thoroughly experienced buyers whose intimate knowledge of merchandise and markets, combined with the accurate information supplied by our local managers as to the needs of every section of the country, enable them to buy for you the Ready-to-Wear Apparel, Shoes and Dry Goods that you particularly want.

We are confident such a service is sure to please you and therefore we seek your patronage with full assurance of genuine satisfaction to you always.

New Merchandise Always

Our low margin of profit assures rapid selling—that results in constant replenishment of our stocks—you are thus assured that you have new goods to select from at all times in our stores.

Goods do not remain here sufficiently long to become old.

Furthermore, we never buy bankrupt stocks or undesirable merchandise of any sort. The pick of the nation's best goods only and always.

One Price To All

and that price bed-rock-low always.

We never discriminate in the prices at which we sell merchandise.

One Price to Everybody—that's the real spirit of the J. C. Penney Company.

Every dollar you spend here has the same purchasing power as your neighbor's—isn't that your idea of correct business methods?

We are sure that such a method has the approval of every man and woman because people always approve Fair Dealing and that is our customary way of conducting business.

Why We Came to Dixon

First of all—WE ARE HERE TO STAY!

Our investigation of conditions in and about Dixon has convinced us that the majority of people will quickly appreciate the advantages offered to them by the service of this store.

With new goods always, lowest prices every day and courteous service at all times—this "different" store will fill a long-felt want in this community.

People who have heretofore "sent away" for merchandise will find it will pay them to travel hundreds of miles, if necessary, to partake of the every-day values we offer.

Attend the opening for proof! You will be quickly convinced this is in truth "the store for everybody."

HERE ARRANGING FOR BIG AMERICAN LEGION
MEMBERSHIP DRIVE

W. Q. Setliffe, Rockford, is in Charge of Work in District

Preliminary arrangements for the great state-wide American Legion Membership Drive are being made locally today by William Q. Setliffe, resident of Rockford, who has charge of the campaign for Legionnaires in Illinois.

He arrived here from the State Commander's Office in Chicago and immediately went into conference with local American Legion executives.

"I am here to pave the way for the coming of the State Commander Milton J. Foreman," said Mr. Setliffe in an interview. "He will be here on May 19th during the Membership Drive, and will have a talk with the ex-service men and women in this community. His purpose is to explain the ideals and purposes of the Legion. Commander Foreman plans to cover every section of the state and meet personally as many as possible of the 300,000 Illinoisans who have close to their hearts the problems of the country during the war. He has the problems of the veterans very close to his heart. It is doubtful if any one individual in the American Legion has done more to benefit the ex-service men and women than he. Speaking of Commander Foreman recently National Commander Franklin D'Olier said: 'That man has more concentrated common sense than any man I know'; from this characteristic the ex-service man and woman are benefitting and will continue to benefit."

In the May drive for members the Legion expects to add at least 100,000 to their Illinois roll. According to a recent statement of National Commander D'Olier, Illinois leads the world in membership gains (more than 5,000 new names monthly) since the National Convention in Minneapolis last November. State Commander Foreman requests that the state organization hold this gratifying lead.

The membership campaign will be of a highly personal character. Legionnaires will make house-to-house canvasses and sign up the veterans in their homes or in the places where they work. No longer can any eligible man complain that he has not received a personal invitation to join in explanation for non-membership, for he will receive his bid face to face and an invitation to bring his difficulties regarding compensation, etc., to the Legion for solution.

In his swing round the Illinois circle Commander Foreman will be accompanied by William R. McCauley, state vice-commander, Earl B. Searcy, state adjutant, A. H. Ogle, business manager, Edward Clifford, chairman of the State Finance Committee, A. A. Sprague, and the members of the state executive committee, in each district he visits. In speeches the commander will point out the work the Legion has done for the ex-service men and women toward a more adequate compensation, as well as the work done in behalf of the disabled veteran.

The state commander recently issued a bulletin calling upon all veterans, legionnaires, the relatives and friends to wire or write their congressman to pass the Legion bill for four-fold optional compensation now

HOW TO GROW FOOD
IN YOUR GARDEN

Garden Teacher Fechner shows what he got out of his garden last summer.

BY W. F. FECHNER,
Champion War Garden Director of America

Gardening in the Past
Time was when vegetable gardening was regarded as a hobby, recreation, pastime or pleasure by those who indulged in this work. And by the majority of city folks it was ignored altogether.

War Gardening
Then the time came when gardening became necessary as an aid to conserve food to "help win the war," for every pound of food raised in the back yard garden for home consumption enabled a pound of food to be released for the use of an army at the front. Indeed, the man or woman who did not respond to the chief executive's call to "plant a war garden" was regarded as a slacker, unless the person had a good excuse. And in this nation wide campaign the person who had previous "hobby" or "pleasure" gardening experience had decidedly the advantage over those who had neglected this useful art.

Gardening at Present
And now the time has come when the prices of many articles of food have risen so high as to be almost prohibitive to thousands of families unless they can either substitute the articles out of their own garden, or can raise something that will effect a saving sufficient to purchase the desired necessity. No longer is the city back yard gardener frowned upon as a "hobbyist" or "crank," but as a real, constructive economist and enterprising citizen.

No longer need city back yards remain the breeding place of rats, snakes and disease, but can be transformed into humanity blessing spots of usefulness and beauty. And the man and woman found occupying his or her spare hours therein is not likely to be found in the ranks of "Reds" or "I. W. W.s" before congress. He will urge further knitting together for mutual helplessness.

The state membership campaign will open with services in churches of all denominations. May 9th will be designated as American Legion Sunday. All ministers have been asked to preach special sermons on the high ideals of the association. Schools and Chambers of Commerce in the various cities have promised their hearty co-operation toward reaching the 100,000 goal. Hundreds of former warrior girls, yeomanettes, nurses and telephonists will assist the ex-gobs, dough boys and marines in buttonholing the veterans with Legion emblems.

Don't Let Lightning
Get There First

In view of the abnormal cost of labor and material, the protection of property from Lightning is vitally important this year—even more important than insurance, since prevention of loss saves the property entirely, while insurance only partially repays and does not replace.

Lightning Rods Prevent Lightning Losses

Lightning cannot be prevented, but it can be controlled, for Lightning can't strike if Shinn gets there first.

We are the representatives in this community of the well known Shinn System of Lightning Protection. It surely does prevent Lightning Losses.
We give a Cash Bond to the owner

The lasting friendships made by MAXWELL
are due to fine steels

You never forget the lasting qualities of fine shoes, fine gloves, or fine furniture. They linger in your memory.

So it is with a Maxwell. The lasting friendships for this remarkable car multiply day
by day.

These are friendships built upon steels, fine steels.

Steels that equal, pound for pound, those in any car built.

They are steels that make possible that wonderful combination of light weight and great strength.

For a Maxwell is built to be light in weight. A light car means economical transportation—if its steels stand up.

Therefore, only those steels that are of brute strength combined with quality go into a Maxwell.

That means paying the very top price for its steels.

But it has earned ever-increasing friendships for Maxwell.

It has given impulse to Maxwell sales. It has spread all over the world ready acceptance for Maxwell.

Reduced to figures, it shows nearly 400,000 Maxwells now in operation. 100,000 more in 1920.

Yet this number will supply
but 60 per cent of the demand.

Eases Quickly When You Apply a Little Musterole.

And Musterole won't blister like the old-fashioned mustard plaster. Just spread it on with your fingers. It penetrates to the sore spot with a gentle tingle, loosens the congestion and draws out the soreness and pain. Musterole is a clean, white ointment made with oil of mustard. It is fine for quick relief from sore throat, bronchitis, tonsillitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, headache, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frost-bitten feet, colds on the chest. Nothing like Musterole for croupy children. Keep it handy for instant use. 30c and 60c jars; hospital size $2.50.
